C. W. SWIGER, Mannington Representative
Hess Bldg., Market St. Phone 13.CONCERT GIVEN BY MOOSE 'SMILERS'

Jubilee in Fairmont Advertised by Visitors in Mannington Last Night.

MANNINGTON, Oct. 26.—The Moose "Smilers" accompanied a delegation of Fairmont Moose to Mannington last evening where, after joining in a parade, they gave a band concert and two addresses in front of the Bartlett Hotel.

The parade was assembled in Buffalo street and Pylea Fork avenue, and led by the Fairmont band, the long line of Moose wound through the principal streets of the city, drawing up in Market street for the concert.

The speakers last night were W. D. Hall of Fairmont and former Mayor R. A. Pollock, formerly of Ohio but now located in Fairmont. Mr. Pollock made the principal address in which he asked for a more general application of the golden rule in American life.

"There are too many men running up and down the earth," he said, "who are looking for everything they can get without putting anything in." Throughout his address he urged his audience to work for things which will make the world a better place to live in.

The big jubilee to be given by the Moose in Fairmont on the evening of October 31 was mentioned in glowing terms, and the purpose carefully explained. This is the first jubilee of its kind to be held in the United States, the speaker said, and is destined to become a national annual event.

Following the speaking the Moose members marched to the Odd Fellows Hall where an oyster supper was served in the banquet hall. A short concert was given by the band in the lodge room.

A committee of five was selected from Mannington to join committees from all other towns represented at the jubilee, and this commission, made up of representatives from several nearby towns, will award the prizes on that night, and will also be expected to check the reports of expenditures and receipts of the Fairmont lodge for the occasion. This is done so there may be no question but that all the money received that night is given to the Salvation Army as promised.

Mannington Lodge No. 1244 will send a delegation to the jubilee, and at least one special car will be chartered for the night. An effort will be made to have the band accompany the Mannington lodge, and they will be given a prominent place in the parade.

The demonstration last night aroused a lot of enthusiasm, and it is believed that Mannington will be well represented at the grand-masquerade ball on the night of October 31.

MRS. HUEY BURIED

Funeral Procession One of Largest Ever Held in Mannington.

MANNINGTON, Oct. 26.—The funeral of Mrs. Ethel Clutter Huey, who died in Cook Hospital Sunday of peritonitis, was held at 2:30 yesterday afternoon from the Baptist Church by the Rev. E. D. Ferguson. It is said that the funeral procession was one of the largest ever held in the city.

The floral tributes were removed from the Clutter home at 1 o'clock and taken to the church, and at 2:10 the procession began to move slowly up Monroe street toward Washington street, their east to Buffalo street, and up Clark street to the church.

The funeral march was played by Miss Hazel Pitzer. A quartet composed of Miss Reba Marr, Miss Edna Haskins, J. S. Phillips and Roy F. Alder sang "Abide With Me," "The Old Rugged Cross," and "The End of a Perfect Day."

The scripture lesson was read by the Rev. E. D. Ferguson, pastor of the church, and the opening prayer was made by Jefferson Thomas of Fairmont.

Mrs. W. M. Jennings, wife of the former pastor, made an impressive talk on the goodness of the Master and the sterling character and useful, full life of the deceased. Mrs. Huey was converted at the age of seven, and had lived a consistent Christian life since, taking an active part in all church and social life.

The many beautiful floral tributes spoke eloquently of the high regard and love held by her many friends and relatives, of whom so many were present that many were unable to get in the church.

The Charles Phillips Tool Co., of which Mrs. Huey is a member, did everything possible to assist. The funeral director was done by E. H. Huey, assisted by G. H. Kindelberger, an uncle of Mrs. Huey. The floral offerings were arranged by A. L. Parrish.

Mrs. Summers Haugh, Mrs. Charles Chaddock, Miss Alma Sybert, Mrs. Dave Matheny, Mrs. Norma Davis, and Miss Madge Ferry, close friends of the deceased, were the pall bearers.

The Princess.

Helen Coadwick and James Renie are the leading players in the "The Dust Flower," appearing at the Princess today.

It is a story of a modern Cinderella, who is saved from a suicide's grave by Ralshleigh Allerton (James Renie), and later marries him, but to find herself much out of place in his beautiful home. Thinking her husband would be happier with his erstwhile sweetheart, she decides to go quietly away, but is brought back, to discover that she is in her rightful place after all, for she has won her way to the heart of the man who married her to carry out a threat made in a fit of pique.

Claude Gillingham as the butler gives a fine interpretation of a character role, and Miss Chadwick gives a charming portrayal of an exacting part.

It is a very romantic tale, well told, if not altogether logical.

The Leather Pushers is the added feature.

The Dixie

"Hurricane Gal" showing at the Dixie today is another of the whist sea films similar in some ways to "Moran of Lady Letty," shown at the Nelson the first half of the week.

It tells the story of a girl, impersonated by Dorothy Phillips, who inherits her father's smuggling enterprises—a schooner and a ren crew—and all the things that you would expect to take place on a pirate ship, are drawn into the story, and make of it one full of stirring, thrilling incidents.

Lois, the girl of the story is the skipper of the Tahiti Belle, and the old ship is the only home she knows until Steele O'Connor comes into her life, and in her heart is born a desire for all the dainty, pretty things that every normal girl craves, and the love of a man, outside of her world, in the person of a government agent.

It is inconsistent in many respects and at times the action seems fairly wild, but if you like tales of the sea, and can imagine a girl in the position in which we first find Lois, you will no doubt take it for what it is worth. It you cannot accept it literally.

The Nelson

A feature of the program at the Nelson today that should be of particular interest is the special edition of "Fox News" given in celebration of the fourth anniversary of its introduction as a screen attraction.

The photoplay today is "Moonshine Valley" with William Farnum playing the leading role and a most attractive, little girl taking an important part as the child around whom much of the story is woven.

It is a rather tragic and pathetic story that brings tears to the eyes of many, in the closing scenes.

The entire cast is one of real merit and the four characters most concerned are all players above the average in ability.

'Safety First' Boys Here
Organized for This Year

In keeping with a custom established last year sixty nine school boys of the seventh and eighth grade of the city schools were sworn in as "safety first" officers by Mayor W. W. Conway late yesterday afternoon. The boys assembled at city hall after school and the meeting was started at 4:15 o'clock.

The boys are expected to guard small school children in the streets near the school buildings. They have limited authority and can have traffic law violators arrested by reporting same to police headquarters. Chief L. D. Snider instructed the boys after they were sworn in and each was given a sleeve band to wear while on duty. The bands are worn on the right arm and are of blue material with red letters, "S. F." on a white circle.

Last year the boys did good work and prevented many accidents so it was decided to reorganize the boys again this year. It is impossible for the city to provide an officer for every school building in the city, and the boys aid materially in handling the smaller children while they are entering and leaving the school buildings, it is believed.

Officers Find Mash Hidden
Under Corn Shock in Field

Pat McGruder, who was arrested at his home on a farm near Monongah last evening after county officers had found two barrels of corn mash hidden under fodder shocks in his corn fields, was arraigned in Magistrate J. L. Blocher's court this morning. McGruder furnished a $1,000 bond for his appearance for a preliminary hearing on November 3 and was released from custody.

The officers had been tipped off that McGruder had mash hidden in his cornfield, but even with the information it was a hard task to find the contraband. The barrels had been buried in the ground almost up to the top, the mash put in and a piece of canvas put over the top. The fodder shock was then built over the barrels. Other shocks were built to cover up the fresh dirt removed in making the holes for the barrels. All the shocks were in straight lines and the officers passed up the hidden mash several times before locating the right shocks.

Have You Piles?

Then You Have Something to Learn

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonard was first to find the remedy. His prescription, HEM-ROID, is now sold by all druggists. Dr. Leonard tried it in 1000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent, and then decided it should be sold under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Portney Drug Co. today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you—it seldom fails.
